Chameleon CHA UGS Universal Guy System £39.95

DESCRIPTION

The CHA UGS product conception, was the result of a new antenna product, under development in our lab. Before the antenna could be field-tested, we needed to have a convenient way to support it. The challenge for virtually any portable vertical antenna, or mast, is the availability of options, and accessories to support all the possible deployments a customer might require. The introduction of our new antenna, with its additional height, necessitated the design of an appropriate guying system; the end result was a series of accessories, designed specifically to support portable antenna products – thus the CHA UGS was created.
